Government Believed Preparing Plan to End a Grave Crisis

IMPENDING ACTION

Importance of Situation is Underscored by 2 1/2-Hour White House Conference

(By Charles B. Selby, U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Indications mounted today that the Government is preparing to unfold a plan for alleviating the meat famine which has presented the Administration with a grave pre-election crisis.

Importance of the meat situation was underscored by a two-hour conference of top agency and Democratic officials at the White House late Wednesday.

Rumors of impending action flooded the nation's capital but officials were put under a lid of silence and there was nothing concrete as to what would take place and when.

President Truman scheduled a news conference this afternoon. Whether he will have anything definite to say on the politically-explosive meat crisis remained a matter for speculation.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, who attended the Wednesday meeting, said it was agreed that none of the participants would make any statement and explained that any announcement would come from the White House.

The Secretary added, however, that he didn't expect the meeting to result in any action by the Administration today or tomorrow.

There were many rumors of proposals for meeting the meat crisis. Chief among these was that a program of decontrol or modification of prices was being considered.

Other suggestions reportedly discussed at the meeting which will be resumed at an unannounced time included use of the President's emergency and war powers to lift the ban against importing meat from foreign countries, a reshuffling of the quotas of small producers and readjusted distribution of live cattle.

Suggests Cross Keys Be Annexed To County Seat

CROSS KEYS, Oct. 10.—That the men of the Cross Keys Businessmen's Association should attempt to have Cross Keys section annexed to Doylestown borough was the thought expressed by Frank T. Reynolds, chairman of the retail merchants' committee of Doylestown Chamber of Commerce, this week. Mr. Reynolds appeared at the meeting of the Cross Keys group as speaker.

"I am sure it would mean more to you and your business to join the borough instead of being apart from us. Cross Keys would then be a part of the rapidly growing county seat."

"I am not here to urge you to join the borough, but I think you should seriously consider doing so. It is true that at present the borough may have little to offer you, but the future is to be considered," Mr. Reynolds went on to say.

An impromptu discussion that followed Mr. Reynolds' address revealed that a number of the members do not believe Cross Keys should be annexed to the borough because Doylestown can not provide residents within the borough with proper sewage disposal and other conveniences which are necessary.

The Cross Keys section, it has been revealed, has been furnished for several years with borough water, although outside the borough, although the fact has never been made public.

"Why should we pay borough tax when we will not be benefited by it?" queried A. B. Patton, president of the Cross Keys Businessmen's Association.

SILLY SEASON

When things get around to the point where Joseph F. Guffey, Democratic candidate for re-election to the U. S. Senate, solemnly tells a political mass-meeting that the Republican Party is the real supporter of Communism, then the campaign may be said truly to have reached the silly stage.

Yet the senior New Deal Senator really made the charge, and apparently with a straight face.

Having made it, he did not even go back to explain, in view of this sensational accusation, how it could be that his various associates on the Democratic ticket said at the outset, "Communism is not an issue."

Of course they were wrong, and of course Senator Guffey is ridiculously wrong in charging, as he did, that there is a mysterious "plot" between the Republicans and the Communists to embarrass the Democratic Party—in Pennsylvania or elsewhere.

The Republicans have been fighting Communism and striving to protect the American form of government from Communist infiltration for almost as many years as Guffey is old.

The political groups, such as the Pennsylvania New Dealers, who are courting the Communists' votes, have run interference for the Commies against the Republicans in innumerable ways.

The favorite old dodge of the Guffey type of demagogue used to be to call the Republicans "Red Baiters".

Now that doesn't sound so good, for big-shot New Deal Democrats have themselves become frightened and begun to demand that the Federal government clean out the Communists.

One such national figure, long on the inside of New Deal affairs, is G. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI. He recently declared that there are "diabolical plots" by the Communists to wreck the American government.

MORRISVILLE COUNCIL OBJECTS TO AN EDICT

Opposes Order For Bus Line To Discontinue Use of Calhoun St. Span

CLAIM INCONVENIENCE

MORRISVILLE, Oct. 10.—Morrisville borough council has voted to object to an order issued by Delaware River Joint Bridge Commission, calling on the Richmond Bus Lines to discontinue use of Calhoun street bridge after the date of Oct. 30th.

Aid of State Senator Howard I. James, and of Representatives Thomas B. Stockham and Wilson L. Yeakel, will be enlisted to have the decision reversed.

The borough body has pointed out numerous complaints are expected. Use of the lower bridge would greatly inconvenience all residents of the borough north of Bridge street, it was said.

The bus line uses the Calhoun street bridge in its regular service between Morrisville and Trenton and Yardley and Trenton.

The borough traffic problem also came up for discussion at this week's meeting. Councilman George Sanford of the fourth ward urged consideration of parking meters for the business section. No action was taken.

Five new streets were made stop streets. These include: West Franklin, at Harper; Hillcrest avenue, at Harper; Stockham avenue, at Franklin; Harper avenue, at Osborne; Lafayette avenue, at Hillcrest.

It was voted that the borough's fire sirens would be blown every noon on Saturday as a testing measure.

Councilman Edward R. Roberts, Jr., of the first ward, chairman of the sanitation committee, reported a bid from William Simons, Jr., present garbage collector, to collect ashes for $400 a month. Council considered the figure too high. The work is now done by the borough. Roberts reported that 116 loads of ashes and refuse were collected during September at a labor cost of $189.92.

The light committee was empowered to construct a street light at the corner of Hillcrest and Cox avenues.

It is also felt that with a visual educational program, teachers will be better able to present their subjects. The final choice was for the larger type.

HOUSING DIFFICULTIES

In the wake of war nothing is harder to find than a suitable place to live. The critical housing shortage exists throughout the country. It was one of the inevitable results of conditions that compelled the use of building materials for military purposes and when the housing problem of peace was posed every thinking person recognized that it could not be solved in a day or a week.

For five years the construction of dwellings has been stopped, while the materials that would have enabled builders to keep pace with demands went into huge fighting establishments in all parts of the world.

When men who fought in behalf of their country came home they had a right to expect decent places to live. What they encountered was widely known. There was virtually nothing to rent, and if they bought they were face to face with inflated values. Out of this confusion came insistent pleas that various units of government should step in and end the trouble.

The Federal Government established machinery which has moved slowly. The state and local governmental agencies have lacked authority to act, but all of them have tried, only to be met by delays, red tape and inability to get results. Then, when some agency attempts to provide housing needs, there are apt to be charges and counter-charges that the whole thing is a scheme to make some body rich.

There will necessarily be delay in providing housing for everyone, but there will be far greater additional delay in providing adequate housing if every move in that direction is met with suspicion, if every contractor who tries to do an honest job must stop and demonstrate that he is not a profiteer. What the situation demands is the utmost in cooperation and a willingness to study and understand the obstacles that have to be surmounted.

Another thing that seems to have been mislaid in these hectic times is the scheme to make 850 words of basic English the language of the world.

The meat control plan is a monument of the OPA, with 141,000 workers out of jobs, 20,000 meat markets closed and hospital patients eating horse meat.

The meek may eventually inherit the earth, but they are not the ones who are obtaining deliveries of new automobiles.

SILLY SEASON

Attorney General Clark has called for a drive to rip the Communists out of public office, and thus stop their effort to enslave the free American people with their own money. Expert observers say that between 50,000 and 75,000 known pro-Communists have well-paid jobs at the public's expense.

The Democratic Mayor of New York City recently stated that the strike of the truck unions, which so greatly endangered the metropolitan area, was directed by Communists.

In one CIO union after another, groups of the membership have charged that the labor movement has been taken over by outright Communists and has been diverted to an effort to Communize the nation. These attempted "purges" of Communist bosses in the labor set-up have largely failed, and friends of the entrenched radicals have punished the leaders of the revolt. Among the targets of these unsuccessful purges were most of the "brain trust" of the PAC.

Does this picture look like a "Republican plot?" How does Senator Guffey think the Republicans would go about getting 75,000 jobs in Washington—for Communists or anyone else—under the highly patronage-minded President Truman and Chairman Hannegan?

How would the Republicans "plant" Communists at the nerve centers of the very unions which were closest to the New Deal Presidents, and back them up so completely that a handful of them can swap the votes and campaign contributions of millions of CIO members across the barrel-head in deals with New Deal politicians?

Senator Guffey obviously is trying to do two things. The first is simple enough—so to confuse the average voter with any sort of silly accusation that he may not realize the dangers into which the New Deal has led this nation.

The other is almost equally obvious. The Senator is trying to pass the buck. There is something in the situation for which he hopes to have someone else blamed.

What can this be?

It isn't hard to guess. The one outstanding difference between this Democratic ticket and any other which ever ran for office in Pennsylvania is that the present one has sold out to a privately-run pressure group—the PAC.

This outrageous deal, which would throw Pennsylvania's government and the Pennsylvania Democratic delegation in Congress into the hands of the pro-Communist bosses of the PAC, has begun to backfire badly.

The PAC is turning out to be a liability to the Democratic candidates. The public simply won't stand for being traded out in such brazen fashion. Communism is one of the great issues, not merely of this election, but of all American history.

Now, someday someone is going to start asking, as they do in the detective stories, "Who dunnit?"

Who arranged the rotten sell-out of the Democratic party to the PAC Communist bosses? What better guess than Senator Guffey. He has long been the intimate of radical labor bosses, and he has been running interference for the pro-Communists for years. He is the sort of political "master mind" who would be inclined to think any sort of political deal was worth while if it promised to provide half a million dollars in political slush funds.

Senator Guffey has been able to find only one way of passing the buck for his part in this deal.

That, of course, is to accuse his opponents of the precise offense of which he himself has been guilty.

Hence his wild, unfounded and wholly ridiculous charge of a "Republican plot" to further Communism.

ST. ANN'S BATTLES MORRISVILLE IN RAIN TO A TIE

Nearly 4,000 Soaked Fans Remain Until The Last Play

FINAL SCORE IS 6 TO 6

Visitors Outplayed "Saints" And Had A Good Aerial Attack

In a hard-fought game, played all during the driving rain of last night, St. Ann's A. A. and the Morrisville Alumni eleven battled to a 6-6 deadlock on the Bristol high school field.

Close to 4,000 soaked fans stayed on the field until the last play, waiting for either team to get some kind of a break that would decide the issue but they waited in vain as Morrisville's aerial attack bogged down towards the finish.

There was no doubt that the Alumni team outplayed St. Ann's and its aerial attack drove the Saints back time and time again. During most of the tilt, the Purple and Gold was on the defense and only the long punts of "Hoby" Merritt kept Morrisville further away from the St. Ann's goal line.

Morrisville had ten first downs to its credit while St. Ann's was credited with five. However, mostly all of the Bulldogs' first downs came via their strong aerial attack which netted them their score. Battling the St. Ann's line was fruitless for the visitors but in the air, the Saints were helpless.

It was forward passes which led to the Morrisville touchdown. They started their drive on their own ten-yard line. Hoernle found an opening in tackle for a first down. Following this Needt tossed to Stradling for a first and Hoernle netted another first on St. Ann's. Needt, but St. Ann's got the ball on their 45 via a fumble. Merritt quickly kicked to the Morrisville 45 and they in return began another air bombardment. Needt rifled a pass to Stradling who was downed on the 27. Stradling reversed the procedure and threw to Needt for a first on the 5-yard line. After two plays failed, "Mickey" Stradling again threw a pass to Bob Needt who caught it over the goal line for the touchdown. The extra point kick was partially blocked and the score stood 6-0.

It wasn't until the latter part of the third quarter that St. Ann's finally got its offensive power in high gear. It all began when Tom Profy intercepted a pass on his 40. Chickiletti and Merritt cracked the line for a first down and Bobby Bauroth added six more on a quarter-back sneak. From his own 18-yard line, "Hoby" Merritt sliced off tackle, cut towards his right and raced the remaining yardage for the St. Ann's touchdown. As Profy's try for the extra point was wide of its mark, the score was deadlocked at 6-6.

The remainder of the game saw Morrisville twice get possession of the ball via St. Ann's fumbles. With less than five minutes to go, Needt whipped a pass to Burns who was downed on the 5-yard line. Morrisville gained a yard through the line but on the next play a fumble took place and "Jackie" Louder recovered for the Saints.

St. Ann's missed its best opportunity to score in the first few minutes of the tilt. After kicking off, a Morrisville player fumbled and St. Ann's recovered on the Alumni's 20. After three plays netted nine yards, a pass on the fourth try barely missed Massi's outstretched hands. Morrisville got the ball but after reaching their 19 fumbled again and Centonze recovered for St. Ann's. But the Morrisville line refused to budge and after receiving the ball, they punted out of danger. Both Morrisville and St. Ann's are still unbeaten, although Morrisville had its goal line crossed for the first time. The teams will play again on Sunday, November 17th, on the Morrisville high school field.

"Teddy" Sak and "Hoby" Merritt were outstanding for St. Ann's while Hoernle, Needt, and Stradling were Morrisville's best offensively with Wallace and Marrucci doing fine work on the defense.

The game was late in getting started because the lighting system failed to function.

The Sanford-Diletto Drum and Bugle Corps paraded at the start of the game but because of the rain did not drill at half-time.

Thirty-five wounded veterans from the Tilton General Hospital, Fort Dix, occupied seats in the stands as the guests of the St. Ann's A. A. organization. They were served refreshments before and after the game.

COMMUNICATION

Editor, Courier:

What is the most needed organization in Bristol at the present moment? An ACTIVE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION for the Bristol Public Schools. The newly-formed Chamber of Commerce suggests an awakening Bristol, a town aware of its potentialities in the industrial and business world. This is indeed a praiseworthy and creditable aspiration. It is deserving of the support of all the people of our community—both old and young. How important it is, then, to organize an alumni association to aid the schools in keeping pace with the growth of a progressive Bristol.

Each year as fond goodbyes are tendered, numerous graduates pledge their allegiance to their ALMA MATER, make heart-felt promises to support all class reunions through the long years ahead, and voice their deep desires for an alumni association. Class reunions are held, though often intermittently. Here many thrill to the delightful comradeship of old friendships renewed and re-live their memories of the Junior-Senior Banquet, the Washington trip, the hilarious fun at Class Night, and the dignified march 'in caps and gowns' that brought a lump to the throat. Speeches are made that help and inspire the fading colors of these pictures of the past, and once again hopes are raised for the organization of a B. H. S. Alumni Association.

But, as yet, nothing has been done about these hopes and desires. And why not? Probably because no one in the past has been able or willing to give the necessary time and effort to supply the leadership and impetus needed to organize such a large and diverse group.

Now, at last, however, the effort is to be made under the willing leadership of the Class of 1946. The opportunity is finally presenting itself for each and every loyal alumnus to support his Alma Mater, his former classmates, and his community by helping to establish an active alumni association.

The school has its Mothers' and Fathers' associations. The alumni can become the third organization interested in the needs of the school. Will you join with us to make our dream a reality?

See Indications For Alleviating Meat Famine

rich, scheduled a conference today with Anderson on the possibility that the Buenos Aires government may be able to help.

It was pointed out, however, that Britain has contracted for most of the Argentine beef and there is a law prohibiting imports of cattle from that country.

Anderson again said he planned prompt action on the beef industry's petition for removal of price controls. He said he doubted that it would be necessary to take the full 15 days allowed for a decision.

With Congressional elections less than a month away, denials that any immediate action is planned have failed to quiet reports that political expediency, if nothing else, will force an attempt to put meat on American tables before the last spurt of campaigning.

Political importance of the meat issue was pointed up anew when Republican National Headquarters charged that the Democratic party is "insulting" American intelligence in maintaining that the Administration is not responsible for the shortage.

Marion E. Martin, assistant GOP national chairman, said that the Democrats enacted "the kind of price controls they wanted" and a Democratic President signed the law. The statement declared flatly: "Theirs is the responsibility for the absence of meat from the markets."

Another Republican, Sen. Gordon, Ore., said he could "promise" beef within a week after meat is decontrolled. He said:

"There are plenty of animated T-bone steaks ambulating over the western ranges, and they're not coming to market under ceilings. True, they're grass-fed, but plenty of juicy T-bones come out of fat range cattle."

A Democrat, Sen. Maybank, S. C., joined in the demand for decontrol—with the prediction that the scarcity will continue and prices will go up. Maybank declared that "the Democratic party made a mistake when it undertook to regulate production and prices after the war." He advocated reliance on "the law of supply and demand."

Democratic Chairman Robert Hannegan attended the White House discussions to furnish the conferees with his impressions on the meat situation which he gathered during a recent swing through the West.

Others at the conference which was not attended by President Truman, were Price Administrator Porter, Assistant Secretary of State Clayton; Clark Clifford, the President's legal counsel; Robert Shield of the Agriculture Department and Richard Field of the OPA.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said "These men have been meeting together to discuss the meat situation and give their advice to the President. They are talking the whole thing over. I don't know what form their advice will take."

VOTERS TO PASS UPON SCHOOL BOND ISSUE

Doylestown Township Voters to Vote on $65,000 Bond Issue

AT ELECTION IN NOV.

EDISON, Oct. 10 — Doylestown township voters will at the November election vote on a proposed $65,000 bond issue. The Doylestown Township school board is seeking authority to borrow its share towards the proposed Central Bucks County high school. "The township officials are anxious to have its future residents enjoy modern educational facilities and program and at the same time, share in the $30,000 increase in state aid that will come each year to the constituent members of the joint board," said Dr. Adolf Berg, a member of the board today. "While the exact amount of Doylestown contributions cannot be determined at this time, the proposed bond issue will take care of the maximum possible share of the school cost should run it over $750,000. There is every indication that the total cost will run far less, and in that event the entire amount will not be needed.

"Since the school board is merely asking for authority to borrow up to $65,000, when the times comes to build and costs are established, the school board may borrow only the amount needed and only for the purpose of erecting a new joint school," he explained.

"Doylestown township will have equal share with every other school board in control and operation of the new school even though its share in the new school is far below that of many of the other school districts. The share in construction and operation of the new school will be based upon two factors: the total cost of the plant, and the amount of real estate assessment in each district.

"The cost of paying off the bond issue in twenty years and the interest rate will have little effect on the tax rate. Increase in state aid and low interest rates will make it possible that the maximum increase in tax rate will likely not exceed 1.5 mills. If there should be special state or federal aid for school buildings, then the cost will be much less.

"The township tax rate will be more affected by loss in state aid for high school pupils under the present system than by the increase for a new building. Doylestown township, in this school year, loses on state aid for high school pupils an amount nearly equal to two mills on the real estate assessment."

GOOD CARE MEANS SHOES WILL KEEP GOOD APPEARANCE

By Edith M. Hopkins
(Home Economics Representative)
Shoes need to be cared for in order to get the most wear from them. A well-kept shoe not only wears better, but also looks better on the foot.

Clean, well-polished footwear is important for good grooming. Polishing helps to protect the leather from dirt and scratches. It's wise to polish a new pair of shoes soon after buying and not wait until the shoes are soiled and scuffed. Suede and fabric shoes should be brushed frequently with a rubber sponge or brush to remove the dust. Wire brushes rub off the nap of the suede.

If shoes become muddy, wipe off the mud with a cloth before it dries, then polish the shoes after they are dry. Damp or wet shoes should be dried thoroughly before wearing again, but never put wet shoes near a stove, radiator, or in direct sunlight. Heat will cause the leather to dry too rapidly and become stiff and hard. It is best to stuff wet shoes with paper and allow them to dry slowly away from heat. Shoes may stretch wet shoes out of shape, so use them only for dry shoes.

Run-over heels are not only unattractive in appearance but are also hard on shoes. The whole shoe may be twisted out of shape if the heels are not renewed.

If the soles wear through, it is wise to have them fixed promptly, before the hole has gone through the inner sole or welt.

When not being worn, keep shoes in shoebags or shoeracks so they won't be scuffed on the closet floor or get dusty. Keeping shoetrees in them or stuffing the toes with tissue paper will help shoes keep their shape.

FARMING CONDITIONS IN BUCKS ARE "GOOD"

Wycomb Farmer Compares Them With Conditions Throughout the West

FILMS ARE PROJECTED

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Oct. 10—Although he saw many farms throughout the middle and far-western states during a recent trip, Clarence H. Smith, of Wycombe, informed members of Upper Merioneth Liberty Club a few nights ago that nowhere were conditions for the farmer as good as in Bucks County, with the possible exception of Illinois and Indiana.

Mr. Smith, who was accompanied on the trip by his wife, paid particular attention to farming conditions. Commenting upon farming in Illinois and Indiana, Mr. Smith said their main crops are corn and soy beans. "They go in extensively also for raising hogs," he added.

Wild barley and wild oats grow extensively on the mountain sides in Montana, Idaho, Colorado and even in California, and the cattle seem to thrive and fatten on them. To an eastern farmer, said Mr. Smith, this seems to be poor forage.

In the dry farming country, where a good crop of wheat is harvested only every other year, the grain is combined. Stalks are cut high, then plowed under and left to lay there a year.

Traveling through the irrigated country, Mr. and Mrs. Smith noted alfalfa cut, cured and stacked in the field, where it remained as long as a year. The alfalfa is harvested by either sweep or buck rakes. Some of the best crops, it was said, were seen in the irrigated country, and adjoining the fields which were irrigated is arid land which will produce nothing.

Indication of farm values in the west, Mr. Smith told the members, is even worse than here. Orchards in the state of Washington are selling as high as $1800 an acre.

Mrs. Smith, who also spoke briefly, commented upon the plant and animal life, and in this connection

FORECAST ADEQUATE SUPPLY OF TURKEYS

Will Be Sufficient For Holidays Despite Unseasonal Demand Now

ARMY QUOTA IS LESS

By Suzanne Flick
1 N. S. Penna. Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, Oct. 10—The State Agriculture Department today forecast an adequate supply of turkeys for the holiday season despite the unseasonable demand for fowl as a result of the meat shortage.

The 1946 turkey crop was estimated to be five per cent under the 1945 record, but the majority of birds were not expected to be ready for market until November. Approximately 1,585,000 turkeys were being produced in Pennsylvania, the Department reported.

"The production goal for turkeys was fixed at the 1,570,000 bird level of 1945," an official stated, "but growers were forced to reduce the figure due to the high price and scarcity of feed."

Nationally, the output has dropped nine per cent from last year's yield, the spokesman said. It was estimated at 41 million birds.

He predicted larger turkey shipments would come from the West since army calls for the holiday poultry meat were reduced.

"Relieved of that monopolizing market, Western growers can now guarantee enough fowl for Eastern consumers," he asserted.

Markets reported increased demands for split birds to suit the needs of small families, the spokesman said.

There was little danger that Pennsylvania-bred birds intended for holiday sales would be shipped to the market prematurely, the official said, since they generally attained proper plumpness during early winter as a natural course of self protection against the cold.

The State Agriculture Adjustment Agency has reported that millers were unable to meet demands for by-product feeds despite the removal of ceiling prices.

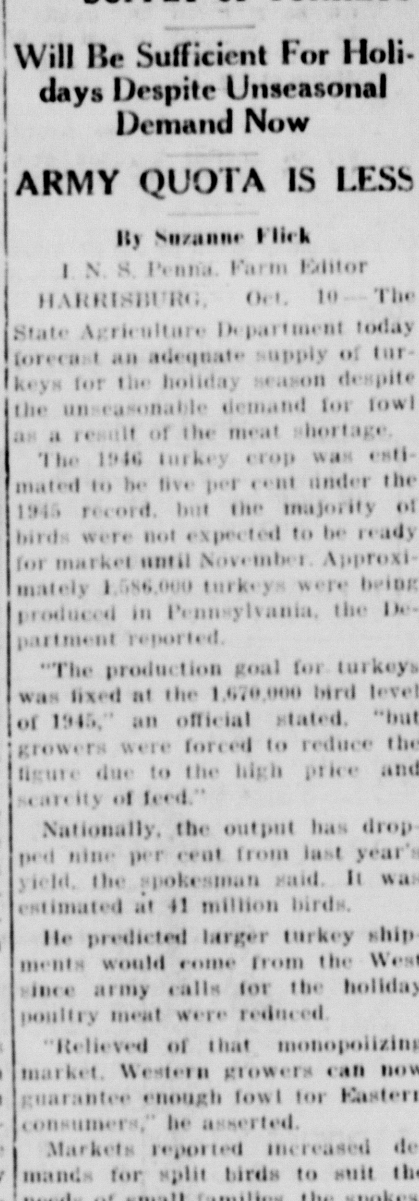

Wheat millfeed production amounted to 118 thousand tons last week, the largest output since March, but supplies were being rapidly dissipated to fill standing orders, the AAA reported.

Outputs of linseed and soybean meals were low, the triple-A said, while linseed meal yields were "insufficient to meet allocations."

"Demand for all other by-product feeds is above supply," the agency reported. It is a sub-division of the U. S. Agriculture Department.

It was indicated some meals, such as alfalfa meal, were being held until producers could obtain prices

Turkey growers from twenty northeast Pennsylvania counties will attend a turkey field day Oct. 11th at Light Street, Columbia County.

Visiting growers will have opportunity for inspecting the entire set-up, generally regarded as one of the best for turkey production in this section. Dressing rooms, where at the height of the season up to 650 birds are processed in eight hours, will be among the points of interest. Brooder systems and incubators of 14,000 egg capacity which hatch around 50,000 poulters each season will be other interesting stops.

CINNAMON DROPS

NEW YORK — (INS) — Kids will have plenty of cinnamon drops this year. The N. Y. Journal of Commerce reports 20,000 barrels of cassia, used in the manufacture of cinnamon flavorings just arrived in this country from China.

NINE TIMES TWO IS REAL PROBLEM FOR TEACHERS

HERE'S A CASE where two and two adds up to eighteen. And if the teachers in the Dominican High School for Girls, Detroit, Mich., go about with perplexed looks it's because there are nine sets of twins in attendance. This double trouble is occasioned by the students pictured above garbed in their "twin dresses," for it so happens that the twins are all girls. They are (left to right): Joan and Dolores Hanson, 18; Jeanne and Margaret Perier, 15; Mary Ann and Ursula Hart, 14; Barbara and Mercedes Herren, 14; Jeanne and Jeanette Cocuzza, 14; Mary and Betty Gottlieb, 16; Rose and Grace Leone, 14; Mary Louise and Edna Miller, 15; Janet and Jane Osborne, 14.

Club at Solebury Hears Report by Sportsman

SOLEBURY, Oct. 10—Information concerning activities of the association was presented members of New Hope Sportsmen's Club by the president, H. Lee Jones, on Saturday evening. The meeting took place in Trinity Hall.

Mr. Jones mentioned that the farm club was organized in May 1938, with 93 members on the roll. Today the membership is over 400. Since its organization eight years ago the club has stocked streams with 13,000 fish, placed 14,000 pieces of game in fields and woods, distributed 94,000 trees and established 43 plots for the feeding of game.

Food has been placed in the Delaware river for wild ducks. The club has also been engaged in the rearing of pheasants and it has cleared streams so they will be in good condition for the stocking of fish. Suggestion, said Mr. Jones, has been made by the soil conservation interests that woodlots be fenced that hedgerows be planted and that artificial ponds be built.

Prior to the business session and talk by Mr. Jones, a supper was served. The business session, which was in charge of Charles J. Koller, president of the farmer's club, was devoted mostly to committee reports.

Representing the poultry committee, Henry Hartmann said the poultry industry is getting a "break" because of the shortage of meat.

Hollywood Beauty Parade

By Max Factor
(Famous Make-up Advisor to the Screen Stars Now Writing for INS)

Today the decollete situation is entirely different from what it was just a few years ago. More and more women are finding evening-time occasion for costumes which accentuate this feature. Bare midriff styling has come along to further this trend. Then, too, the nighttime no longer has anywhere near a monopoly on the costume display of arms and shoulders. Sun suits, playsuits, and sleeveless and back-less sport costumes are strongly established on the current fashion scene, and thus decollete effects in some form or another, are strictly on the increase.

What this all adds up to is another regular make-up requirement. For women who are truly glamour-conscious and really value smartness and perfection in appearance, make-up blender is today almost a cosmetic necessity along with powder, rouge, and lipstick.

Don't get the idea, from the observation just made, that you need to use make-up blender for your appearance in a swim suit, or anything of that sort. You don't. Such attire was mentioned only because it is responsible for the tanning of arms and shoulders, which fact increases the need for make-up blender. If you don't want skin to offer a violent contrast to the possibly lighter make-up of your face, you can find the answer to this problem in make-up blender.

Learn in mind that your glamour can profit from the complexion flattening offered by make-up blender not only for formal evening appearances, but for many informal afternoon appearances in backless or sleeveless costumes as well. Don't apply make-up blender until your facial make-up has been completed, and make sure that it is in a shade which perfectly complements those used for the beautification of the face. The whole object of the blender is to supply continuity of color to your complete make-up, and thus correctness in shade is essential.

Make-up blender should be applied in long, straight-down strokes, and should be applied as swiftly as possible. Provide the application sponge with a liberal quantity of the blender so that you won't have to stop and replenish it more than a few times during application. If you happen to be expert at the application of leg make-up, you will have no trouble in using make-up blender. The general application techniques of the two are identical.

Inside Your Congress

Nuernberg

—by—
SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

The Nuernberg trial was both an act of primitive justice and a piece of international hubbub. That the defendants deserved what they got is admitted. Their crimes the "multitudinous seas incarnadine." They are written on millions of graves.

But any trial which amounts to one law for the conqueror and another for the conquered, will not long satisfy the conscience of mankind, or serve the cause of peace.

That it was the Russian judge on the high court who cried the loudest for "justice" is irony supreme. Did not Russia invade Poland at the same time Hitler's hordes poured in from the West? Was that an act of aggression or not? Was that a breach of the Kellogg-Briand treaty which outlawed war as an instrument of national policy, a treaty which was the chief legal basis of the Nuernberg trial? Who will sit in judgment on that crime? Did the Red Army carve up, without warning, a little country which had given her no offense, and whose boundaries Russia had covenanted to respect? Were Poles shipped to Siberia in freight cars in the dead of winter? Did tens of thousands die on the way?

Who was it said, "One swift blow to Poland, first, by the German army and then by the Red army, and nothing was left of this ugly offspring of the Versailles Treaty?" It was Molotov, not Goering.

The offense of the Nuernberg judgment is not that it is too severe. It is that the judgment itself makes other criminals respectable. It would have been far better if the Nuernberg court had been composed of judges from Switzerland, Sweden, Portugal, and Ireland which were neutral in the war. Then blame might have been assessed without hypocrisy.

The court complains that the Nazis planned for conquest—as they did. But did they do it without aid from countries which have now rendered judgment against them? What about the British agreements that allowed Hitler to build a navy and air force in violation of the Versailles treaty and over the objection of France?

Is actual bloodshed the only aggression that is a crime? Is military intimidation to get scot free? Is it all right for a robber to stick up his victim so long as he doesn't pull the trigger?

Who is aggressing against Turkey with respect to the Dardanelles? Who aggressed against Iran's oil fields? Under whose orders were American flyers so recently shot down? Is anyone going to be tried for that?

Russia had a non-aggression treaty with Japan! Who broke that? And who urged Russia to do so?

The document setting up the Nuernberg court includes as crimes not only "murder, extermination and enslavement" but "other inhuman acts committed against any civilian population before or during the war." How do we classify the bomb on Hiroshima?

Slave labor? What about the hundreds of thousands of captured German soldiers still held in France and England, a year and a half after the war ended?

Who is the aggressor in the civil war in China?

Unless the conscience of all mankind can again be pricked with "Mea Culpa"—"I too have sinned"—it will be said again, as it was 2,000 years ago, "The strong do what they are able, and the weak suffer what they must."

Do the Atlantic Charter and the United Nations Charter embody principles we are determined to apply equally to all men, in all circumstances? That is the question. SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL.

'HUMAN ROSARY' AT RALLY FOR WORLD PEACE

A SPECTACULAR "LIVING ROSARY," COMPOSED OF 1,731 SCHOOLGIRLS, each holding a flashlight, lights up the darkened Polo Grounds, in New York, as 55,000 persons attend a Holy Name Society peace rally. Francis Cardinal Spellman officiated as the throng prayed for world peace and paid homage to the war dead. The Cardinal denounced the Yugoslavian "persecutors" of Archbishop Aloysius Stepinac. ### "BEAUTY SLEEP" A REAL NEED

Ample "beauty sleep" is in Leslie Brooks' health program

By Helen Follett

When we were youngsters we had a high scorn for that old-time term "beauty sleep." It was just a lot of hokey held forth by adults who stayed up until all hours. They used to tell us that if we ate our bread crusts we'd have curly hair.

As the years roll around and birthdays start to bear down upon us, we have to realize that a long, refreshing night's sleep will do more to iron out a tired face and restore strength to a tired body than all treatments devised by beauticians.

During the day's activities cells are wearing out. Fatigue bugs are getting in their work. The nervous system demands a let down. To stay up when one is dog-tired is self-inflicted cruelty. Yet many women, fagged out from the day's work, get into their glad dry goods, sail out for the merry evening, look like wrecks the next day.

There are certain laws of health that should be obeyed; one law is not to draw too heavily on energy. If you do you shouldn't bawl about prematurely grey hair and wrinkles. You have brought them upon yourself.

Lack of sufficient sleep to restore one's forces will result in a sallow complexion, lack-luster eyes, a dull head, depressing thoughts and lagging steps. If it has been an extra merry evening there may be a bad taste in one's mouth. But we won't go into that.

In your bedroom have an abundance of fresh air. Oxygen is life and when the lungs are freely inhaling pure air, restful sleep is most likely to be with one.

On composing one-self for sleep, the body should be fully outstretched, the arms lying loosely at either side, never thrown up over the head or folded across the chest. Lie on the right or left side, inclining toward the abdomen.

Don't assume, as so many women seem to do, that you can't effectively shampoo your own hair and that this operation must be done for you. Any woman can shampoo her own hair to perfection if she will but try.

Use a regular shampoo soap, rather than ordinary complexion soap. Liquid soap can be rinsed from the hair more surely than lather from a cake soap can.

Rinsing is of the utmost importance to effective shampooing. The most thorough removal of grime from the hair and scalp is of no use unless the soap film is removed too.

Many women who are regularly working at somewhat strenuous jobs err in the frequency of their shampooing. If your hair is regularly subjected to perspiration and grime by the kind of work you do, you need to shampoo it much more frequently than you logically would if you weren't working. If you don't do this, you may permanently mar the beauty of your hair and seriously endanger the health of your scalp. Contrary to a widely held opinion, it is not possible to shampoo too often, any more than it is to wash one's hands or face too frequently.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, aching up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 million kidney troubles flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

More Canned Fish For Us At Home

There will be approximately 55 million more pounds of canned fish for Americans this year than last despite the government set aside for overseas relief for some types of fish as high as 45 per cent of the total pack.

More salmon is canned than any other fish—271 million pounds is the estimate for the current year—and 33 per cent of this pack will be taken by the government. There will be 243 million pounds of sardines in cans, the government taking 45 per cent of the pack. There is no government set-aside on tuna or shellfish.

Canned Salmon Production Leaping

The production of canned salmon in this country doubled in the five year period preceding the war, and canners predict a steady expansion from now on spurred by consumer demand.

The first salmon canning factory was established less than 90 years ago. Until then salmon were known only to the primitive peoples in Europe and America and to a few sportsmen who liked to cook the fish they caught.

First Salmon Canner

The first salmon canning factory was set up on the banks of the Sacramento river in California in 1861 by William Hume, a salmon fisherman from Maine. Amazed by the number of huge silver-backed fish that jammed into the mouth of the Sacramento river, William Hume travelled back to Maine and sold his friend Andrew Hapgood, a lobster canner, on the idea of moving his canning machinery across the country.

Hapgood's can making machinery consisted of a screw hand press, a set of dies for making can tops and bottoms, shears to cut out the can bodies by hand, an anvil and a tinner's hammer.

William Hume, his brother, George, and Hapgood did the fishing, made the cans and did the processing with the help of a few hired hands who cleaned and cut up the fish.

"Iron Chink," Speeds Canning

By 1910, the salmon canning industry was the second largest on the Pacific Coast, due largely to Mr. E. A. Smith's invention of the "iron chink," a machine that cut up and cleaned fish at the rate of 80 a minute. It adjusted itself to the fish's proportions as the fish came through on a moving belt, removed the head, tail and fins, slit the body open, scrubbed out the cavity and sent the edible portions to a set of revolving knives which cut them into proper-sized pieces ready for the can-filling machine.

Collapse Cans

In 1910 came the collapsible can which speeded production even more. Since the salmon canneries were located in remote regions, the canners had to be can makers as well. But can making had become a highly specialized business and the perfection of the cans meant added assurance that the contents would remain 100 per cent pure and wholesome.

When the can manufacturing companies in the East thought of sending collapsed or semi-formed can bodies which required only one-sixth of the shipping space of the fully formed cans, it became more economical for the salmon canneries to purchase the cans and the machinery necessary to fill them out, cap and close them.

Thanks to the Humes' penchant for fishing, the sturdiness of the steel-and-tin can, and a series of ingenious inventions by can makers and canners, the ocean's Silver salmon come ready-to-serve on any table however far inland.

Are Returning Veterans "Different"?

During the war you heard a lot about how hard it was going to be for returning veterans to get adjusted to civilian life ... how they'd be "different."

Well, plenty of them have returned to our town, and a finer, steadier bunch you couldn't ask for. Most of them are back at the same jobs ... going with the same nice home-town girls (getting married, some of them, and setting up families) ... renewing the same old friendships.

Even their amusements are the same. Nothing more exciting than fishing Seward's creek or pitching horseshoes ... enjoying an outdoor barbecue with friendly wholesome beer and pleasant talk.

If they've changed at all it's in the direction of maturity and tolerance ... tolerance for everything except dictators, and those who would destroy our democratic principles of life and let live. And from where I sit, that's another reason to be proud of them.

You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet !!!

LAST YEAR we were not only Bristol's largest Toy and Sporting Goods Center . . . we were also Bucks County's largest Toy and Sporting Goods Center . . . with a selection and variety of Toys, Games and Sporting Goods equal to the largest Department Store. We had 5 Rooms of Games, Toys and Sporting Goods!

THIS YEAR we've already doubled our stock . . . a newer, wider and different selection of items . . . but you ain't seen nothin' yet! This year we've really got . . .

5 STORES IN ONE !

Yes, there are enough items in any one of our Five packed Rooms to make it a store in itself . . . and there are scores of beautiful new items arriving daily!

Just to give you one little look into our expansion program . . . we now have in our combination men's and boys' department, a room devoted exclusively to men and boys, a complete line of Model Airplanes. And for the Girls, we've added the famous International Doll line!

Our Best Recommendation Is:
"ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR"
Seeing Is Believing!

Yes, our Lay-Away Plan is in full operation . . . it's for your added convenience.
